IRISH GET ARMS FROM SUBMARINES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, April 28.—Great quantities of arms have been landed in Ireland by German submarines and these are now being used by the Irish rebels against the British troops, it was stated here today.

This is the first case of submarine filibustering on record and solves the problem that has long puzzled the British government as to where the Sinn Féiners (Separatists) were getting their rifles and ammunition. More warships have been sent into Irish waters, not only to protect the eastern, southern and western coasts, but to prevent further filibustering on the part of Irish and German agents.

In addition to the warships in Dublin Bay British men of war are lying off Cork, Queenstown, Bantry, Limerick and Galway.

With all of Ireland under martial law and more troops pouring into Ireland from England and Wales it was reported today that fighting had developed in five counties in the southwest and the west.

Military proclamations are being posted under orders from Major General Sir John Maxwell warning the Irish against taking up arms against the king.

In the absence of official news during the early morning hours the nature of contemporary events in Ireland could only be conjectured, but it was supposed that fighting was still in progress in the streets of Dublin.

That the casualties are heavy is indicated by the fact that the rebels, who are well armed, are making a stubborn stand against the trained troops that were sent against them.

The statements of John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, and Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulster Unionists, that they would not make any political capital out of the uprising and would do everything in their power to restore tranquility, but this was more than counterbalanced by the extensive military preparations of the war office. The measure being taken indicate that the government is seriously alarmed and that they fear the revolution will not be easily crushed.

Traffic between Holyhead and Kingston has been restored. Passengers on a boat reaching Holyhead early today from Kingston reported that the situation in the state of civil war.

A number of political prisoners are reported to have been placed upon British warships in Dublin Bay in connection with their delivery from jail by the rebels.

Sir Edward Carson, although 60 years of age, has offered to go to Ireland and put himself at the head of the Ulster volunteers in Ulster to fight the Sinn Féiners.

The number of rebels under arms in Ireland is not known, but it is believed that there are about 10,000 men taking either an active or passive part in the uprising. That there is a heavy force of rebels in the field is shown by the great numbers of troops rushed into the districts where danger exists.

London newspapers make no attempt to minimize the seriousness of the Irish situation but in dealing with the question they almost invariably attack the Asquith government for allowing the Separatists to make such widespread preparations for an uprising. They contend that the result is sure to have widespread influence in neutral countries, especially in America.

The investigation of the origin of the rebellious movement, promised in parliament by Premier Asquith on Thursday will probably be under way within the next 48 hours. The early stages of it, however, will be secret.

It is learned that the war office has had some trouble getting troops into Dublin because a considerable portion of the tracks of the North and Southwestern railways were torn up by the rebels. These are the two main trunk lines running into the Irish capital from the west and north.

The rebels also tore down miles of telegraph lines which practically cut the Irish capital from the outside world. British soldiers are now engaged in making such repairs as they can.

Pope Benedict has asked Cardinal Tappin to ascertain if any Roman Catholic clergymen were implicated in the uprising. This is significant in view of the fact that the last press dispatches to come out of Dublin before the city was cut off was one relating to a meeting of the Roman Catholic clergy of South Louth at Drogheda at which "The political situation of Ireland was discussed."

SUBMARINE SINKS BRITISH WARSHIP

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, April 28.—The British battleship Russell has been sunk in the Mediterranean, the admiralty announced today.

The Russell was the flagship of the Mediterranean fleet. She was sunk by a mine, the admiralty report stated. One hundred and twenty-four seamen are missing.

The Russell displaced 14,000 tons and normally carried a crew of 750 men. She was in the same class as the battleships Duncan, Cornwallis, Exmouth and Albermarle.

The Russell mounted four 12-inch guns in pairs in turrets, fore and aft; twelve 6-inch (45 calibre) guns in casemates; twelve 3-inch (12 pounder) guns; six three pounders and two machine guns as well as four 18-inch torpedo tubes broadside. She was protected by Krupp armor.

The lost warship was laid down at Jarrow on March 11, 1899, and was completed February 19, 1901. She was recommissioned at Sheerness in 1912 after being refitted.

The Russell was 405 feet long and 75 feet in the beam and had 19 knots speed.

BERLIN EXPECTS TO AVERT A BREAK

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, April 28.—Semi-official announcement was made today that a solution of the submarine warfare dispute with the United States that would prove satisfactory to both Germany and America had been reached. Its details are withheld, in accordance with diplomatic courtesy until the German reply to the American note has been sent.

It was stated also that the assertion received at the American embassy, it is understood that a long message was received by Ambassador Gerard from Washington on Thursday in which the position of the American government was fully set forth and that the ambassador made the contents of this message known to Foreign minister von Jagow late in the afternoon.

(It is possible that the "long message" was the statement issued in Washington Wednesday afternoon.)

The visit of Ambassador Gerard to army headquarters at the personal invitation of Emperor William is regarded here as further evidence that there is no danger of a break between Germany and America. It was intimated today that in addition to the formal reply in diplomatic terms which the German government will make to the United States the ambassador will be given a personal message by the emperor to be transmitted to President Wilson.

Miss Virginia Los Kamp, who will be the contralto soloist at the coming music festival to be held in Kingston June 5, 6 and 7, has recently been singing in New England, where she has received the following flattering press notices: "A very select audience, comprising many of the best known artists of the Providence musical set, greeted Miss Los Kamp, the New York contralto, last evening at a private musicale given in her honor, and seldom has a contralto been heard in this city who made such a favorable impression. Her program, made up of many of the modern songs as well as the classics, was rendered in a most able manner. She is an artist of rare intelligence and her interpretations were a real inspiration and delight to hear."—Providence Journal.

BRITISH DISASTER IN MESOPOTAMIA

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, April 28.—London newspapers today began to prepare the public for bitter news from the Mesopotamian front, where a large British force under General Townshend is bottled up at Kut-el-Amara. The press calls attention to the lack of news from Kut-el-Amara and the enormous difficulties confronted by the expedition that is trying to relieve Townshend.

They admit that Turkish reports indicate the position of the British is critical and appear frankly pessimistic over the outcome. The government censor permitted publication of the alarming hints that news of a fresh British disaster may soon be expected.

MYSTERIOUS THEFT QUICKLY SOLVED

Thief Climbed Poles and Stole 1,000 Feet of Wire From Fire Alarm System—Sergeant Murray Arrested Thief 'One Hour After Theft Was Reported.

Some time ago a force of men under Henry D. Ellinge, superintendent of the city fire alarm system, strung a thousand feet of wire on Greenhill avenue with the intention of connecting the line up with the fire alarm system later on. Thursday when the men went over to the avenue to make the necessary connection it was found that the wire had mysteriously disappeared.

The wire had been strung on five poles along that avenue and the men who intended to make the connection were dumfounded when they reached the scene and found that the poles had been stripped bare. Where the wire had disappeared to was a puzzle to deep for them to solve and consequently the matter was referred to the police and Sergeant Murray started an investigation which resulted in his walking into police headquarters with the thief one hour after the robbery had been reported.

This morning Superintendent Ellinge and President Kolts of the fire board appeared in court when the thief was arraigned before Recorder Lang. The charge was read to the thief and he pleaded guilty. At the request of President Kolts the matter was held open for one week as the thief had arranged with President Kolts to restore the stolen wire.

It was brought out that the thief had not been working all winter and has a family to support which led to his committing the theft. This was his first offense and President Kolts was not anxious to press the charge. It developed that the thief had climbed the poles and removed the wire, but what disposition he had made of his booty was not made public.

Boston, April 28.—Old King Winter, not content with buffeting Boston around all season with 26 snow storms, came to bat early today with number 27. ASK GERMANY FOR FINAL ANSWER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 28.—Ambassador Gerard has been instructed to explain to the German government that its answer in the submarine controversy must be final. He personally will tell the Kaiser that all that the United States is asking is a return to cruiser methods of warfare. Advice from Berlin hinting that Germany will try to quibble regarding warning freights are causing officials concern but it is hoped that after Mr. Gerard has restated the American position the officials there will realize that they must go the entire way to avoid a break.

The state department still is without information regarding the conferences between Ambassador Gerard and the German officials. He is not expected to report until after a final decision has been reached by the Kaiser and the imperial chancellor but officials were hopeful today that this decision will be reached within the next 24 hours.

Meanwhile the general situation here remains unchanged. Not a single order has been issued to naval officers for six days. All are being retained on their present stations and leaves of absence are not being granted. Every precautionary measure has been taken so far as the navy is concerned, and it was stated today that if an emergency should arise the Atlantic fleet could be made ready for active work in record time.

Administration officials today denied reports that President Wilson has decided to demand that congress pass resolutions endorsing his course in the submarine situation. Such action, officials said, would be entirely unconstitutional. The president intends to stand pat on existing conditions until after the German answer is received. If it is favorable there will be no need for putting the question before congress. If the reply is unfavorable, then the president will simply break off diplomatic relations and report his action to congress.

The avalanche of telegrams to the White House and to members of congress appealing for measures that will prevent any open break with Germany still continued today but the officials of the telegraph companies said that the number was gradually growing less. To date more than 100,000 messages have been received here.

Save the Paper.

Superintendents of schools throughout the state are in receipt of letters from William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce, in which Mr. Redfield urges upon them the importance of impressing upon the minds of the principals, teachers and pupils of the public schools the desirability of conserving the supply of waste paper and rags from which paper may be manufactured. Owing to the scarcity of paper and the increasing difficulty of obtaining materials from which paper can be made the pupils of the schools will be materially assisting the American people as well as the manufacturers by collecting and saving all such paper, rags, etc. Mr. Redfield also requests in his letter that the names of all local firms or individuals who engage in the business of collecting paper and rags be sent to the office of the secretary of commerce at Washington, D. C.

MEXICAN GENERAL DUE SATURDAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., April 28.—As General Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war, neared the border today for the conference in which he will demand the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico, extraordinary precautions were taken in both Juarez and El Paso to guard against a Villista outbreak. The streets of Juarez were patrolled by Mexican troops, while the American authorities kept close watch on residents of the Mexican quarter of El Paso.

In the Mexican town several arrests were made during the night. The prisoners are suspected of being secret adherents of Francisco Villa. The conference between General Obregon and Major General Scott will take place tomorrow, probably in the Mexican customs house at Juarez, a bullet marked as a result of the many battles which have taken place there during the Mexican revolutions.

The customs building was decorated with flags today and a heavy guard of picked Mexican troops was posted about the structure, all the rooms of which were searched to prevent any foe of Obregon from seeking a hiding place from which to attempt to assassinate the war minister.

General Gavira and his staff went early to the Juarez station to await the arrival of General Obregon on a special train from Chihuahua City. He was notified that the special was traveling rapidly and would arrive half an hour ahead of schedule to arrive here with General Funston at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. There may be an exchange of official visits this evening, but the formal conference will be held Saturday.

London—Travelers who left Ireland last night arrived in London today bringing word that the situation has improved. This coincides with the feeling in official circles that conditions in southeastern and western Ireland are much less serious than 48 hours ago. Those who arrived here today from the scene of the uprising told picturesque stories of fighting in the streets between rebels and soldiers.

It was evident that the rebels had counted upon success from the suddenness of their stroke, but the promptness with which huge bodies of troops were thrown into the Irish capital and the surrounding towns overpowered many of the revolutionists who voluntarily gave up. However, there were many others who had fled themselves to fight to the last and they kept up the battle.

This coincides with the feeling in official circles that conditions in southeastern and western Ireland are much less serious than 48 hours ago. Those who arrived here today from the scene of the uprising told picturesque stories of fighting in the streets between rebels and soldiers.

It was evident that the rebels had counted upon success from the suddenness of their stroke, but the promptness with which huge bodies of troops were thrown into the Irish capital and the surrounding towns overpowered many of the revolutionists who voluntarily gave up. However, there were many others who had fled themselves to fight to the last and they kept up the battle.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

This is an unusual recipe worth trying, especially by those who do not care for the rich ordinary mince meat.

Lemon Mince meat.—Squeeze the juice from four large lemons and place the peel in cold water, bring to a boil and change the water twice, cooking the peel until tender, then drain and pound to a paste, add four apples chopped, the juice of the lemons, one pound of currants, one and three-fourths cupsful of sugar, one-half cupful of nutmeats, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, allspice, cloves, salt and a half cupful of raisins, mix all together with half a cupful of butter and put into a jar.

Cheese and Spinach Roll.—Take two quarts of cooked spinach, add one tablespoonful of butter and chop fine. Add a cupful of grated cheese, two eggs, beaten, and enough bread crumbs to form into a roll. Bake in a baking dish.

Sour Roast Beef.—Take a quart of water, two cupfuls of vinegar and salt and pepper to taste; slice into this a few onions and carrots, then add a roast of beef. Allow the meat to soak over night, then roast as usual. When the meat is half cooked add the vegetables from the brine and a little of the wine to taste the meat. When the meat is tender, remove and add a half cupful of sour cream and flour to thicken. Serve hot. This is a delicious old German recipe.

Nut Strips.—Beat two eggs until light, add a half pound of brown sugar, one cupful of walnut meats. Sift twice five tablespoonfuls of flour and a quarter of a teaspoonful of baking powder and a dash of salt. Mix and spread thin on buttered pans. Cut in strips when cold. These are delicious served with afternoon tea or cocoa.

Raisin Bread.—Take a cupful of brown sugar, a cupful of sour milk, a teaspoonful of soda, a dash of salt, two cupfuls of graham flour, a cupful of raisins chopped. Put into a deep bread pan and bake fifty minutes in a slow oven.

IDEAL AND REAL HELLS
Masters of literature have painted many word pictures of the region of punishment taught by religion and common known as hell, as their imaginations conceived such a state after death for the sinful but no picture yet painted even an adequate culminating reality suffered by soldiers in the present European war. Hell is depicted by painters and writers alike as a region of flames. A special correspondent of the New York Times supplies a picture of trench fighting between French and German infantrymen near Verdun. The French soldiers were making a furious assault on German trenches, each side using hand grenades as boys would use snowballs, when the suddenly abandoned trench noticed a nozzled tube projecting toward them which they recognized as a flame thrower and self preservation demanded that they should turn against the inventors then hideous chemists. "What happened?" "Then comes a spark and the sinister glare of a flame jet cleaves the darkness. The group of Germans is enveloped in a torrent of green and red flames. What follows is a picture of damned souls in hell, and the setting is worthy of the picture. Dense billows of smoke eddy amid the distorted trees. Mephitic vapors writhe in many-colored wisps. Masked soldiers play the part of demons. Under the fiery torment an unhuman wailing like the cries of wounded hares rises from the men in the boyau. They roll on the ground or try to scale steep walls, welcoming death from shells. But flight is impossible, their seared limbs crumble beneath them. Soon there is nothing in the boyau save a formless heap of blackened ashes from which all vestige of humanity has departed." Perhaps it was wrong for the Frenchmen to use the flame thrower against the Germans, but if they had not the apparatus would have been used against them by the men who made it for that purpose. Aside from abstract questions of ethics of all warfare it will be interesting to study descriptive writing of the future and notice what effect the war will have on all literature.

A new use for imperfect three inch shells manufactured by American ammunition makers but rejected by the European government inspectors has been discovered by a silver smith who covers them with plate and sells them for cocktail shakers. Many imperfect shells were manufactured and it is a strange coincidence that when the quantity became unusually large a campaign was begun against what was termed the unreasonable demands of the inspectors of the Allies, whose insistence that the shells should correspond to the specifications and contours even to the luncheon part of an inch was stated to be responsible for the then existing shortage of ammunition among the Allied armies. The inspectors were denounced as a band of impractical martinet. To what extent that campaign was intended to influence the inspectors to accept faulty shells never has been made clear but it is certain that the campaign in most cases was without effect.

Puzzling English Pronunciation.
We may puzzle our brains over the tongue-twisting names which France and Russia have given to some of their towns but England furnishes a few quite as puzzling as that of Przemysl, for instance, is pronounced Per-so. Kirkcubright, Kirkcubree, Darenty, Danter, Leominster, Lemster, and Eresham, Esbam.

Little Laughs.
"I hear that Jones lives in almost atrophied sequestration." "Nothing of the sort," he lives in the suburbs." —Baltimore American.

Fond Mother.—Oh, John the baby can walk! Cruel Father—"Good! He can walk the floor with his little feet." —Boston Transcript.

You may admit that I am one of the thinkers of the day. "Yes," replied Miss Gwynne, "but some men manage to think so thoughtlessly." —Boston Transcript.

First Maid.—So you don't like to work for highbrows? "Second Maid—"You bet I don't! I worked for one pair of them—and never again! Him and her was fighting continually, and it kept me running back and forth between the keyhole and the dictionary all the time." —Puck.

Young Doctor (back in home town from war service)—"Yes I've been at the front in Belgium and Serbia for the last year. Coming home we were tormented. Villager—"You don't tell me! Why, you must be just crazy to hear what's been going on in town since you left." —Judge.

Home Talent.
A man from upstate had gone to a theater in New York. In an interval between the acts he turned to the metropolitan who had the seat next to him.

"Where do all them troopers come from?" he inquired.
"I don't think I understand," said the city dweller.

"I mean them actors up yonder on the stage," explained the man from afar. "Is they brought on specially for this show or do they live here?"

"I believe most of them live here in town," said the New Yorker.
"Well they do pretty blamed well for home talent," said the stranger. —Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Met His Match.
A tight-fisted old man feeling very sick asked a friend to recommend a physician. The friend named a certain specialist.

"Is he very expensive?" asked the sick man.
"Well not so very. He'll charge you four dollars for the first visit and two for each one after that."

The old fellow soon afterward walked into the office of the physician named by his friend and upon being admitted to the consulting room planted down two dollars remaining. "Well doctor here I am again."

The physician calmly picked up which he had secured. The sick man looked on, expectantly awaiting the next move.

"With me ready to be examined," he said at length.
"I don't think it necessary," replied the friend specialist. "There's no need to do it again. Keep right on taking the same medicine. Good day, sir." —Washington Post.

The Guy Deceiver
Thomas Abbott Osborne apropos of the charges brought against him as warden of Sing Sing said at a dinner in New York.

The major charges answer themselves. As for the minor charges—well they are so unimportant and small as to be ludicrous.

They remind one in their ludicrousness of Mrs. Henry Pick. My husband has been deceiving me again! This good lady snapped out at the evening circle.

angly, whose expectation of worldly reward is slight but whose conscientious, well directed efforts help to keep constantly kindled the flame of religious fervor. Their opinion is not without weight, even as their quiet and unassuming influence in every community is not without lasting effect.

YOUNG MEN PRAISE PASTOR'S SERVICE

The Rev. Howard E. Snyder, Guest of Honor at Testimonial Dinner Tendered by Brotherhood of Church—Business and Professional Men Join in Paying Tributes.

Good fellowship, mingled with expressions of regret at his forthcoming departure to a new field, were closely mingled Thursday night at the Stuyvesant Hotel at a testimonial dinner tendered to the Rev. Howard E. Snyder, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, by the Young Men's Brotherhood of the church whose members with their guests numbered nearly seventy. The occasion was one of the most enjoyable of the numerous entertainments that have marked the conclusion of Pastor Snyder's service in the Kingston charge.

A rousing reception was given by the diners who were in their places at 9 o'clock and joined in a warm welcome to the guest of honor, who was escorted into the dining room by the president of the brotherhood, Conrad J. Heiselman. The last named presided as toastmaster and in opening the after dinner speaking touched upon the services of the Rev. Mr. Snyder to his church and to his city.

Major George Chandler was the first speaker and he gave eloquent expressions to the high esteem in which Pastor Snyder is held by his associates in the national guard and also laid stress upon his labors as chaplain of Company M. The popularity of the chaplain is well-known among members of the militia and the fine personal qualities to which it is due were made the subject of a neat speech of appreciation by the major who, in conclusion, expressed the hope that Chaplain Snyder would be with the regiment in camp this summer and tendered the best wishes of the guardsmen of the city for his new field of endeavor.

Loss To City and Church.
The college life and labors in the ministry of the Rev. Mr. Snyder were sketched by the Rev. J. F. Berman of Poughkeepsie, a college classmate who told of the pastoral experience of the chaplain previous to his coming to Kingston. Success in even greater measure was predicted for Pastor Snyder in his Wisconsin pastorate.

The loss to the church and the community in the departure of the guest of honor was ably voiced by Harry Shirick, deputy collector of internal revenues, who compared the influence of a Lutheran pastor at Cornell university during his student days to the deep impress made upon Kingston and its people by the activity and sincerity of Pastor Snyder.

Graceful tributes also paid to Pastor Snyder by John Lang, William Ravenburg, D. Goldsworthy, Augustus Kohler, Fred M. Snyder, Dr. W. D. Hasbrouck, Prof. E. N. Barth, Fred Dubois, William Kukuk and others. A telegram of regret from Captain Frank L. Meagher was also read.

Purse of Gold Gift.

Presentation of a purse of gold for Pastor Snyder was then made by President Heiselman and with the gift was a letter expressing the regret of the Brotherhood at the termination of the association. Every member signed the letter and two copies of it will be embossed, one to be presented to the pastor and the other to be framed and hung in the rooms of the brotherhood.

Plainly moved by the many expressions of good will and the enthusiastic praise bestowed upon his work, the Rev. Mr. Snyder spoke briefly in extending thanks for the gift and for the letter. Whatever success his efforts had attained in Kingston, he declared to be largely due to the splendid spirit of cooperation on the part of the members of the Brotherhood and their place in his affections had been made permanent by their seven years' association. In conclusion, the speaker made an ardent plea for brotherhood and for faithful observance of duties as church members and as citizens.

Music was an inspiring feature of the evening's entertainment. The Brotherhood quartet composed of Messrs. Pierson, LaTour, Wieber and Rowland favored the gathering with several selections.

The Testimonial Letter

The letter of regret which was read was as follows:

April 16, 1916.
Rev. Howard E. Snyder,
At Hotel Stuyvesant,
Kingston, N. Y.

"Our Dear Pastor Snyder:
You are about to leave us for your new work at Madison, Wis., and we are gathered here this evening to bid you the last fond farewell and Godspeed.

"A motion was regularly made and carried at a special meeting of the Young Men's Brotherhood to draw up a set of resolutions expressing our sincere regret at your departure, and the great feeling of regard that we entertain for you. However, resolutions seem to smack of stiffness and formality. And it is our wish that our last message to you be conveyed in terms of cordial informality in order that its sincerity and earnestness cannot for a moment be doubted.

"Pastor Snyder, it is now nearly seven years since you came among us and organized us into the church society that you see at present. We were a mere handful of young men then; today we are fifty strong. During these seven years you have been our constant guide. You have been our faithful adviser and our fountain of knowledge and inspiration. Never did you falter in your efforts in our behalf. You have been kind to our patient with us, and solicitous for us, and we appreciate far beyond the power to express the splendid comradeship and association that you have so democratically and so liberally bestowed upon us. You have indelibly impressed upon our hearts and minds the necessity for cultivating true Christianity, true patriotism and true brotherly love. Your talks always provided us with a worthy inspiration. Our only regret is that we were not worthy of your goodness.

"Pastor Snyder, no one knows more than you how sadly you will be missed in our midst, and how greatly we loved you. Our Fraternity House circle will sorely feel the presence of your empty chair and your name will often be on our tongue in terms of praise and gratitude.

"We sincerely lament the loss of you, but your example has taught us not to be so selfish as to desire to keep you away from a field where your extraordinary talents and ability will find so much more profitable employment than we could ever enjoy with us.

"We wish you the greatest of successes. We know that you will succeed because we have unbounded confidence in you and your ability. May God be good to you, one of His noblest noblemen.

"Whenever you think of us, which we hope will be often, read this letter and know that your seven years' labor with us and for us has not been in vain. You have won our appreciation, our admiration, our friendship, our gratitude and our love. No man who has ever worked has won more than these.

"On evenings when we gather we will miss you, but your loving spirit shall forever linger with us, and our eyes will be directed lovingly at your picture as it hangs in its frame in our midst.

"Good bye, our beloved pastor, good luck, God bless you."

More details will be formulated at the meeting. The president desires all to be present.

LORD & LADY WIMBORNE

DIME FILM SERVICE.

LORD LIEUTENANT OF IRELAND REPORTED HELD HOSTAGE IN DUBLIN AND WIFE.

New York, April 28.—According to a cipher message said to have been received by persons interested in the Irish Nationalist propaganda here, it is declared that the Irish Volunteers have captured and are holding as hostages, Baron Wimborne, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and his wife, Mrs. Nathan, Under Secretary for Ireland, General Friend, the British commander in Ireland, and several hundred British soldiers and officers.

It was reported that Baron Wimborne was held not only as a hostage for Irish freedom, or further concessions to Ireland, but also that his life would be forfeited if Sir Roger Casement were executed.

Baron Wimborne is best known in the United States for his success in 1914 in taking back the Polo Cup to England. He succeeded his father, the first baron, in 1914. He is forty-three years old. His wife, Lady Wimborne, is the daughter of the second Baron Enniskerry. She is said to own the finest rubies in the world, including the famous Hope rubies, valued at $250,000. Baron Wimborne has been Lord Lieutenant of Ireland since January, 1915, and has been both a member of parliament and soldier.

Farm and Garden

HINTS FOR ALFALFA GROWERS

Precautions Must Be Taken Against Weeds Following Spring Cutting.

Farmers are warned in advance that unless precautions are taken many alfalfa fields will be veritable seas of weeds following the first spring cutting. Due to the luxuriant growth of weeds in 1915, millions of seeds now lie in the fields ready to germinate at the first opportunity. Farmers are advised to cultivate as soon as the first crop of hay is removed from the ground.

"Removal of the hay," says Ralph Kenney, instructor in farm crops in the Kansas State Agricultural college, "will produce ideal conditions for the germination of the seed of weed and grass annuals. Something must be done to keep the weeds from sprouting or they may literally take the alfalfa fields this year."

"In seasons that are wet and cool, as in 1915, it is profitable to cultivate after the first and second crops of hay."

because of foxtail and crab grass coming on at that time. If this had been done last year millions of these grass seeds would never have matured.

"Many fields appeared to be taken by foxtail and crab grass last year, and their owners are wondering what to do with them. If the field was less than two years of age it is likely much damage was done. If beyond that age there probably was plenty of moisture to provide for both the weeds and the alfalfa."

"There is no one tool that is decidedly the best for cultivating alfalfa. In the opinion of Mr. Kenney, any tool with teeth and with the ability to spring upward or sideways when it comes in contact with alfalfa crowns should do excellent work. The spring tooth harrow fitted with narrow teeth works successfully. Numerous implements are made for the special purpose of cultivating alfalfa."

The disk harrow was one of the first tools used for the cultivation of alfalfa. At one time it was highly recommended for that purpose. The argument for the disk harrow, that it splits the crown of the plant and thereby has a tendency to thicken the stand, does not hold true, for in many cases the crown is cut off or cut open. The splitting of the crowns causes them to partly dry up and die and at the same time exposes the living portion to the attack of fungous diseases, which are numerous in Kansas.

A Few Good Hens.

It is probably a fact that the average suburbanite with a few fowls in his back yard makes more than the farmer with his numerous scrub fowls and ideal range. Farmers of this class should learn that a dozen pure bred hens with good care will yield far greater profits than several times this number of scrubs.

CARE OF HORSES.

Many horses are killed and many more are injured by careless feeding and watering.

Never water a horse immediately after feeding grain. This washes the grain through the stomach before it is properly mixed with the stomach juices and is liable to cause colic. It is safer to water the horse before feed.

If the horse is very warm let him drink a few swallows and then hold his head up for a minute or two and this cool his stomach slowly. Try it yourself in hot weather. You can drink a quart of cold water without injury if you but will take several minutes for the first few swallows.

When horses are brought in hot from their work they should first be given water cautiously and then fed hay and grain together, allowing them to exercise their own judgment in the selection of their feed.

While waiting for them at the water trough the time can be profitably used in removing the harness, at least the collar, and cooling the shoulders by washing in cold water. Removing the hot harness in a hot barn during the hot season may be a great relief to the horse and is really worth while—Kansas Farmer.

Are You Wasting The Price Of a Titan Engine?

TITAN engines run on kerosene. Average cost of gasoline so far this year, 16.9 cents per gallon.

Average cost of kerosene 7.7 cents per gallon. Gasoline costs over 100 per cent more than kerosene. Gasoline is going up steadily. Kerosene is not. At present fuel prices Titan engines, using kerosene, save their owners about 1.1 cents per horse power per hour.

Are you running a gasoline engine? What horse power is it? Figure what you'd be saving if you had a Titan kerosene engine. Rather surprising, isn't it? How long would it take that saving to pay for a Titan engine of the same size?

Partial View of Immense "Bull" Durham Factories at Durham, N. C.

The Purity of "Bull" Durham Is Proven Absolutely by Government Statistics!

Herewith we print a facsimile of a letter from Hon. W. H. Osborn, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, written in the routine of his official duty in answer to a letter from the manufacturer.

The Government officials find in the "Bull" Durham factory nothing but the bright, golden leaves of Carolina and Virginia tobaccos—the tobaccos that have made American cigarettes the most popular smokes in the world.

In Durham—and indeed, throughout practically all of North Carolina and the adjoining counties of Virginia—nearly every man is interested in tobacco, the great staple crop of the community. In the towns where the tobacco warehouses are located; on the farms, in the banks, in the stores—everywhere—these men who grow the tobacco, who take it to market, who buy it and sell it, and are made prosperous by the business of handling the money received from the crop—everywhere, these men know that the sweetest, mellowest, choicest leaf is bought for,

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO

And they know that nothing else ever enters the "Bull" Durham factory.

These men who live with tobacco, know that for three generations the same farms in the same counties have been producing their best for "Bull" Durham. They know that the quality of "Bull" Durham has made the city of Durham famous—and the honor of "Bull" Durham is a source of pride, not only to the manufacturers, but to the entire community.

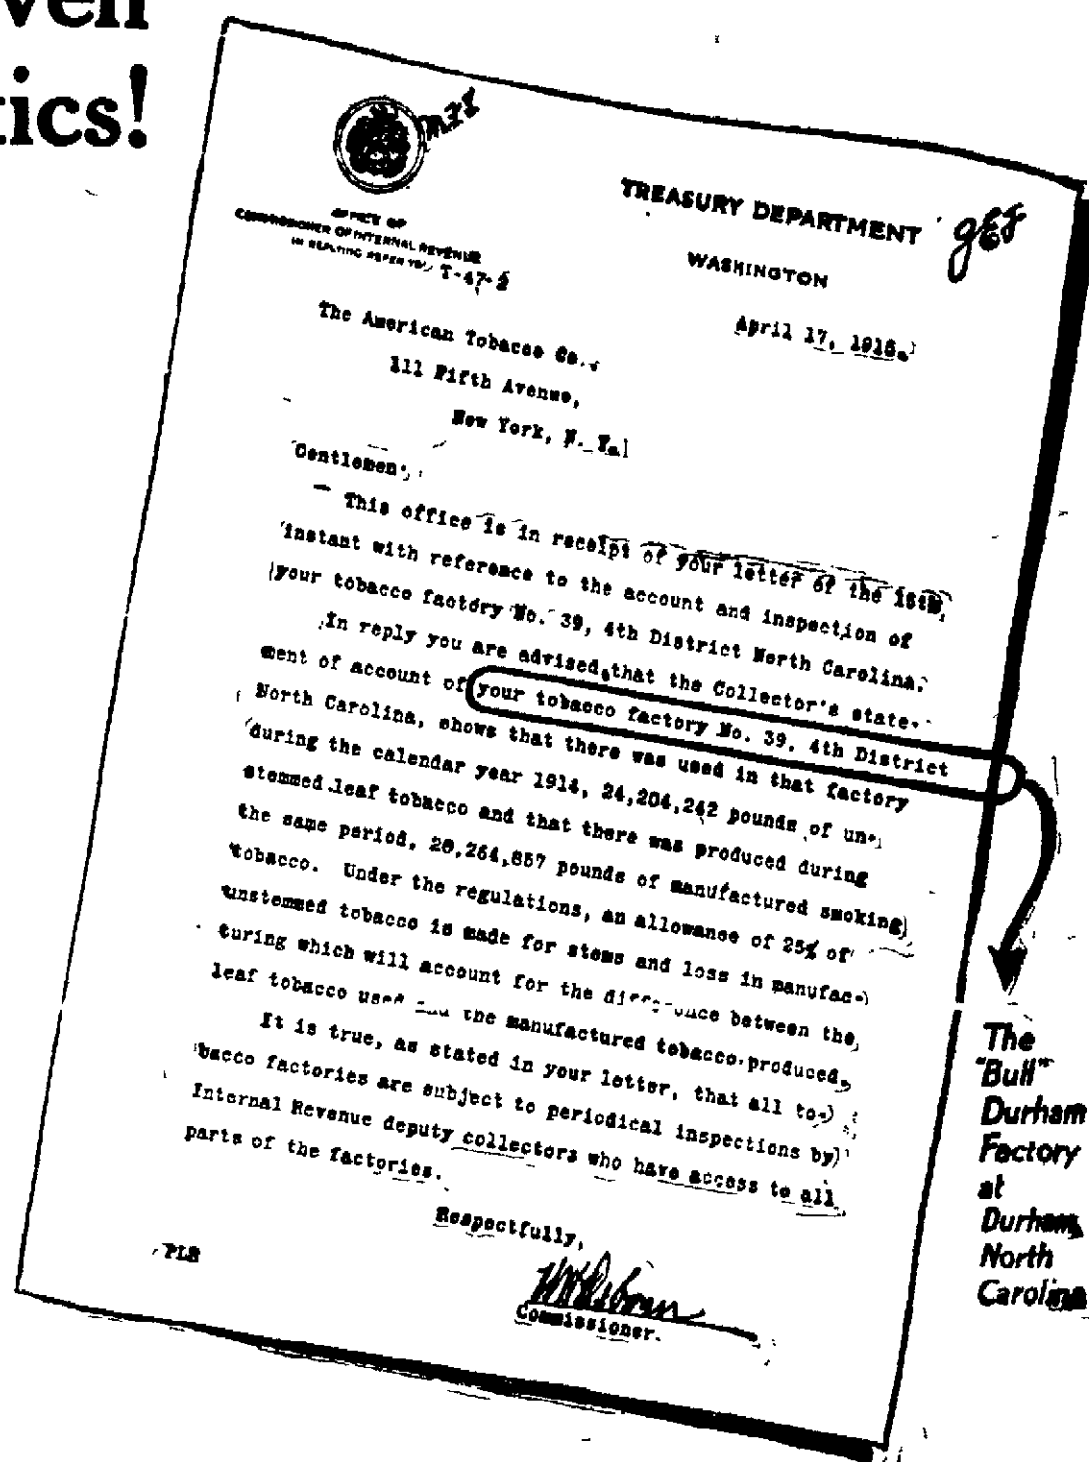

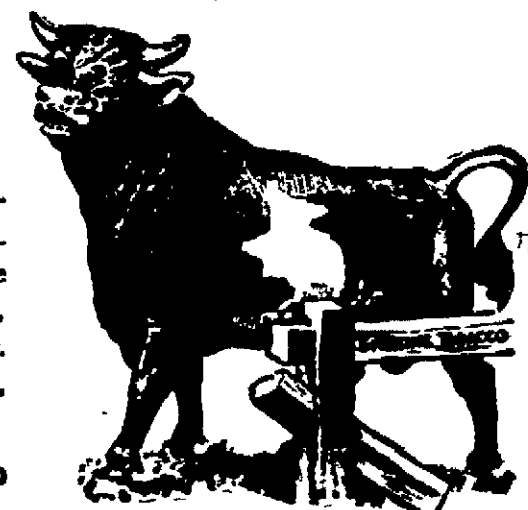

Test "Bull" Durham Purity For Yourself! You can easily prove to your entire satisfaction the absolute purity of this famous old tobacco.

Simply take a bag of "Bull" Durham and empty the tobacco on a piece of white paper. Then separate the grains with your finger and examine them closely. You will find only tiny flakes of pure tobacco—nothing else looks like the golden Carolina-Virginia leaf used in "Bull" Durham. Your eye would instantly "spot" anything of a different nature. Make the test today— learn to "roll your own" with "Bull" Durham—and you'll find the greatest smoke-enjoyment of your life.

FREE An illustrated Booklet, showing correct way to "Roll Your Own" Cigarettes, and a package of cigarette paper, will both be mailed, free, to any address in U. S. on request. Address "Bull" Durham, Durham, N. C.

"Swat the Eggs" Better Than "Swat the Fly"

"SWAT the fly" is a good warcry, but it is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen. There is a better one, "Swat the eggs." Probably every magazine and newspaper in the United States printed last season from one to a score of arrangements of the common housefly—the disease breeder, the typhoid fly, the infantile paralysis fly; in a word, the twentieth century pest, an enemy of mankind. "Swat the fly" has become the slogan of the day.

For every fly killed in June there will be 10,000 less in July, 1,000,000 less in August and, by September the most ambitious boy, eager to earn the prize for the greatest number of flies killed, couldn't possibly lift the progeny of this single fly which escaped him in the springtime. All very true, but where will all those flies lay their eggs and rear their precious babies? Can we find the nests, can we destroy them by wholesale, the larvae or the eggs? We can, easily and cheaply, and every city with ordinary regulations may become a flyless town. Flies breed in filth, and if you get after those places it will save a lot of swatting later on. Our government has carried on an extensive experiment with manure piles and the eggs which each female fly deposits therein by the thousand and has found the remedy. It is ordinary borax, one of the commonest and cheapest of minerals, produced in abundance in the United States, and it takes very little to make the fly egg quite worthless as a future fly. Borax costs about 5 cents a pound, and the crude borax mineral, colemanite, considerably less, while three-fifths of a pound sprinkled through ten cubic feet—about eight bushels—of manure will kill 99 per cent of the eggs and maggots of the fly.

(By La Racontense.)

The practical and wearable sport outfit shown, consists of a crepe de chine shirtwaist, blue silk sweater, sport hat, and smart wide striped green and blue striped cotton re-trait skirt. The separate skirt in any of the numerous stripes or plaids will be an indispensable item of the summer wardrobe. The number of smart color combinations available affords one an opportunity to "match up" a sweater, blouse, or hat, in this way effecting a consistent color note throughout.

One of the Sts. "Is this a good brand of perfume?" he asked, pawing over the lot on a bargain counter. "One of our six best smellers," declared the clerk.

PERFECTION Spring Suits With Distinctive Style

The man who first said "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear" spoke merchandising's greatest truism, and we challenge the world to show a single instance of true business success built on anything less than Perfection and Quality. On those principles this tailoring establishment was founded. Here we make individuality in Men's Suits a study. We are tailoring more clothes for more particular men this spring than ever before. We have learned what the men of Kingston want in clothes, and we see that they get it every time. Prices, Quality and Fit are always right.

ONE CENT A WORD ADVS. BRING RESULTS

BIG CIRCUS WILL POSITIVELY COME

It Will Be Here On May 19, Bigger Than Ever, Parade or No Parade—First Car in Town Today.

Notwithstanding the fact that some time ago the advance man for the Barnum & Bailey circus was in town and made arrangements for the big show to be held here on May 19, the Busy Street Liar still insists that the show will not come. Now the reason the B. S. L. gives is that the show will not be allowed to parade. The show positively will be here as arranged, on May 19, and the first advance car arrived in town this morning at the West Shore station and the work of billing the county will start. If the parade is not allowed it will not prevent the circus coming as show people are never anxious for a long parade but would rather rest on the grounds until time for the performance to begin. However there will undoubtedly be a parade for the amusement of the small boy to whom this event is the most important in the entire day.

More railroad cars are required to transport the show, bigger tents are raised, more area is needed to accommodate the show than ever before. In fact, the circus has reached a point where it is the despair of many of the smaller railroads and taxes their facilities to the limit, for eighty-nine cars are needed to convey the gigantic canvas vaquero from town to town.

There's material enough in the year's circus to make a dozen circuses of the old days. A "big top" 680 feet long, nearly 1,500 employees, three rings, four elevated platforms, acres of aerial apparatus, a lionagerie, 750 horses, forty elephants, a street parade three miles long.

The stereotyped "grand entrance" with which the circuses were content to open their program for many years, has been permanently eliminated from the Barnum & Bailey tournament. This season the circus entertainment is inaugurated by the spectacle "Persia—Or the Pageants of the Thousand and One Nights."

The subsequent three-hour acrobatic performance, below and aloft, scoring all comparisons and breaks all records of the past. Every one of the five hundred participants is a champion in equestrian, acrobatic, equilibristic, acrobatic or gymnastic effort.

Trained animals are in great variety. A feature is the only baby giraffe in captivity.

A MUSICAL TREAT.
Artists of High Ability Delight a Crowded House.

The auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening was crowded by a most critical audience of Kingston musicians and music lovers. About 800 being present, who all were more than delighted at the unique musical rendered by Miss Helen Clark, the noted contralto soloist, who was assisted by Mr. Bond on the violin.

Previous to the recital Mr. Bond gave a brief introductory talk on the wonderful achievement attained by Thomas A. Edison in his latest invention, the new Edison Diamond Disc musical instrument, explaining that it was not a mere talking machine, but a musical instrument, capable of re-creating the finest and best music as well as the human voice. Later, when the audience heard Miss Clark sing and Mr. Bond play on his violin, it was easily observed that the statements were not out of order.

Few if any in the audience ever had the pleasure or privilege of hearing at the same time the singer and the recreation of his or her voice on the phonograph. Such was the pleasure of all those who were present last evening, and it was a performance that proved beyond comparison the power of the machine to faithfully reproduce the human voice as well as the instrument.

One of the songs which gave great pleasure to the critical audience was the "Nightingale Song" when Miss Clark literally sang a duet with herself, taking the alto part in per-

THOUGHT SHE HAD KILLED A MAN

Stunned Him With a Smoothing Iron, Then Telephoned to Her Husband to Hurry Home—Further Developments May Follow.

"Hurry home, I have just killed a man," was the startling information borne over the wires to the ears of an anxious husband who had just received a telephone call from his wife on Thursday.

But to start at the beginning, it had best be stated that this moving picture from real life was staged somewhere in Kingston. The plot follows: Scene one showed a woman busily engaged at work on the household ironing and singing softly to herself as she worked. Time, noon on Thursday.

Scene two—The villain enters the room where the woman is working and attempts to embrace her. Then follows the thrilling scene where the woman hurls the smoothing iron she holds with accurate aim. The iron strikes the villain along side the head and with an unuttered curse he drops to the floor, stunned.

Horrified the woman dashes out of the house to the nearest telephone. Scene three shows her telephoning to her husband and when he finally responds she pours out the sensational appeal that opens this tale. Scene four shows the husband, coatless and hatless, rushing homeward and meeting his wife.

They enter the house together and find that the "dead" man has recovered consciousness and decamped.

Tableau.

It would not be at all surprising if further developments may follow.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1580, Waist; 1577, Skirt.—A Distinctive Style.

This attractive gown was developed from waist pattern 1580 and skirt pattern 1577. The model has good lines and attractive style features. The waist is cut with a convertible collar and may be finished with or without the bolero. The skirt has a yoke, shaped in points, to which the flare sections are joined. As here shown brown gabardine was used for bolero and skirt portions, and ecru tulle for the waist. Velvet or taffeta could be used with plaid silk or matched satin for the waist. A medium size requires for the waist pattern 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material with 1 1/2 yard for the bolero. It is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The skirt requires 3 1/4 yards of 54 inch material. It is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. The skirt measures about 3 1/4 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps, by The Freeman Pattern Department, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

Loughran Buys Lunch Room.

The stock in the Modern Lunch Company, a recently formed corporation which conducts a lunch room on Wall street, has been sold to James B. Loughran of 24 John street and the final transfers will take place Saturday at a meeting of the stockholders. The new lunch room was started a few months ago by its proprietors, Marshall, Ellsworth and O'Brien, the first two being the original owners and later taking O'Brien into the company. It is said that the other stockholders will be Miss Margaret M. Loughran, sister of the principal buyer and Chris. J. Fitzgerald. The new owner is well known in this city and there is little doubt that the business will thrive under his management.

Miss McIntyre at Van Wagenen's

Miss Rose McIntyre, who for some time was connected with Wolcott store on Wall street, will join the sales force of the Van Wagenen store. Miss McIntyre has a host of friends in this city who will be pleased to hear that she has become connected with the Van Wagenen company, where she will join the sales force in the cloak and suit department.

"THE UNWRITTEN LAW"

By EDWIN MILTON ROYLE, With an All-Star Cast, Including

WILLIAM PIKE and ANDERSON ROBSON

EDWIN MILTON ROYLE, author of "The Unwritten Law," "The Squaw Man," etc., says: "Beatriz Michelena's work on the witness stand in 'The Unwritten Law' is the most real and convincing emotion I have seen in picture art. Real grief, as we know, is grotesque and distressing, if not ludicrous, but Miss Michelena's is so restrained, so free from exaggeration, that it approaches artistic perfection. It is a great triumph." "The Unwritten Law" is shown in seven acts.

RIVER FREIGHT SHIPMENTS HEAVY

River Boats Carrying Heavier Freights Than Last Year—City of Newburgh Running on Transport's Route.

With the opening of navigation on the river the Central Hudson line boats have been kept busy carrying a large amount of freight, and in fact more freight is being transported at this time than there was last year for the same period. In order to facilitate the handling of freight and the movement of the boats the company has instituted a new system and are now employing a half a dozen freight handlers at the docks here who assist the boat crew in loading and unloading freight. This prevents the boats being delayed too great a length of time by reason of the heavy freight.

The fact that the East Shore railroad has placed an embargo on all freight destined for New York city has had a great deal to do with the heavy shipments by water, as rail freight was diverted to the boats carrying freight for transportation. This freight embargo has now been lifted by the West Shore, according to word received Wednesday at the railroad freight office here.

Even with the embargo lifted by the railroad there is still considerable freight being shipped from Kingston for the New York market by way of boat.

The ferry Transport has been hauling off the route between Rondout and Rhinebeck and is at Hiltbrant's boatyard undergoing its annual overhauling. The ferry City of Newburgh is now running on the Transport's route.

The Eclipse Monster.

The Mohammedans of Macedonia look upon any eclipse of the moon as full of portentful-boding bloodshed. It is met with reports of firearms, and from the minarets the imams call the faithful to public prayers in the mosques. This recalls in striking manner the practices of many savage and barbaric nations. The great nations of Asia, such as the Hindus and the Chinese, still cling to the belief in the eclipse monster. The latter meet it with prayers, like the Turks. But even in civilized Europe, both ancient and modern, one finds numerous proofs of this superstition. The Romans came to the succor of the afflicted moon by flinging firebrands into the air, by the blast of trumpets and the clanging of brazen pots. The superstition survived through the middle ages into a very late period. France, Wales and Ireland offer many instances as late as the seventeenth century.

Japanese Fear Foxes.

The Japanese have many curious superstitions about animals, the chief among which is their belief in the supernatural power of foxes. There are numberless shrines, indeed, dedicated to foxes in Japan.

The badger is another animal feared by the superstitious Japanese mind. It is believed to have power to annoy people and to be able to turn into a priest at will.

The crying of weasels and the baying of dogs are considered evil omens, and such insignificant happenings send a shudder over the believers.

In Japan a light colored mouse in the house is a sign of happiness. If a spider falls from the ceiling in the morning it brings pleasure, but if at night it is thought to be very unlucky. To see a centipede at night means happiness in Japan.

The Governor's View

Governor Capper of Kansas says:

"There are many business men who make money without advertising, but they are few and far between. You can't now, to yourself, name a live, go ahead town that has poor newspapers, a live town that does not have enterprising merchants.

"A live town is made up of live business men, and a live business man shows his liveliness by going after business. And there is only one way of going after business.

"You can't help yourself and help boost your city in any way more effective than by telling the world through your local newspapers."

Greatest of All Food Sales FOR SATURDAY AT Washington Market

We've provided a bargain spread that will serve to bring hundreds of shoppers here Saturday, the occasion of our usual week end sale. If every housekeeper who glances over the splendid list of food values that follow could understand the goodness and worth of the items mentioned and at the same time take into consideration the prices that are shown of fair profits, this market would not be large enough to accommodate the crowds which would come to buy. We do our full share of this city's meat and canned goods business every Saturday, and our sales force could hardly be expected to do much more than they are now performing and at the same time render efficient service. This list is a strong bid for your Sunday food needs.

Saturate a bit of adding with thick glue, wrap as much as possible around the nail and insert the latter in the hole, pressing it home as strongly as possible. The nail will thus be firmly fastened in its place.

JUST SOME RED TAPE.

Legal Formality Made Necessary by Mrs. Hawk's Temporary Absence.

A hearing was had at the court house this morning before John E. Hardenbergh, David Burgevin and Thomas H. Edmonston, as commissioners, and a sheriff's jury, to determine the competency of Mrs. Edith A. Hawk of this city.

The proceeding was necessary for the temporary management of Mrs. Hawk's extensive property interests during her stay at the Middletown State Hospital, where she has gone for treatment. Her condition is only temporary, in the opinion of Dr. Maurice C. Ashley, superintendent of the hospital, and other physicians who have attended her. Mrs. Hawk is fully aware of the nature of the proceeding taken for the management of her property.

While she is at the hospital Mrs. Hawk continues to consult regularly with her secretary on business matters. Her income amounts to over $15,000 a year and much of her estate is invested in securities. Besides personal property, she is the owner of considerable realty, and the legal requirements for the management of both classes of her property under the circumstances necessitate the application to the court for appointment of a committee of her person and estate. On the report of the commissioners and the verdict of the sheriff's jury, Judge Jenkins will be asked to appoint such a committee.

During her stay in Kingston, where she intends to make her permanent residence, Mrs. Hawk has occupied a suite at the Eagle Hotel. Senator Charles W. Walton and County Attorney John W. Eckert appeared for the petitioner in the proceeding.

The sheriff's jury was composed of DeWitt C. Curves, Seth Jocelyn, Conrad Raible, Elmer Molyneux, Eli Palen, Louis Kiegl, Joshua M. DuBois, George Greene, Levi Elmdorf, William Lounsbury, E. Otis Van Aken and Supervisor William H. Kolts.

There will be a social and dance in St. Ann's Hall, Sawkill, on Saturday evening, April 29, for the benefit of St. Ann's Church. Special music will be on hand and dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Italy and the Italians.

The Italians, especially of the South, are not as tall as the other Europeans. The Italians are not related, racially, to the Hebrews, but belong to the same breed as the French, Russians, English and other Aryan peoples. So far as we know, the people of Campania are not different, in origin, from the other Italians.

Better in the Trenches.

Walter—"The two shilling" table d'hôte, sir? Take my advice, and don't you touch it. I've stood the food here for close on twenty years, but it's got me beat at last and I'm resigning. Sir, Barrin's disadvantages of 'ar' in an experienced waiter, would be a healthier meal in the trenches any day of the week, sir."—Passing Show.

What is a Weed?

The simplest definition of a weed is "a plant out of place," and the unhuman scientist may be satisfied with that disposition of the lovely mountain laurel or the aristocratic rhododendron when great specimens of either stand in the way of a road or a building. I think I may construct my own definition of a weed as, in the first place, a plant of persistent and spreading growth that is not sufficiently beautiful in foliage or flower to commend it for its own sake or as a plant attractive in itself that tends to possess the land to the exclusion of all else. Thus the ox-eyed daisy is a weed, even though it is beautiful, because it sprays persistently, so that whole fields on the careless farm wave with its flowers, justifying the title of Dr. Bailey of Cornell, who said, when passing such a display: "That man is not a farmer; he's a florist." This same Dr. Bailey's definition of a weed as "a plant not wanted" is simple and true.—J. Eugene McFarland in Country-side Magazine.

The Rose and Its Thorns.

This is the old legend of how the rose came by its thorns: One day in paradise Cupid was flying over a garden of roses. Blossoming there was a beautiful pink rose. Cupid bent to kiss it when a bee hidden in the flower stung him on the lip. Crying with pain, Cupid fled to Venus, his mother, demanding vengeance. Venus, to punish him, gave him a bow strung with captive bees and set the stem of the rose with stings torn from the poor bees. These stings now are called thorns.

Obeying Instructions.

"Why, Willie, what in the world are you doing in there?" asked the mother of a small boy as she opened the door of the big refrigerator and discovered him sitting inside.

"Well, you see, I've got to speak a piece at school this afternoon," explained Willie, "and papa said I'd get along all right if I kept cool."—New York Globe.

Her Title.

"Mary Ann Simpkins has married a title."

Housekeeper's Reason.

"What is your chief objection to moving?"

"The dust that has accumulated behind them."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)
—To Connie Mack.—
His thoughts are with his vanished stars
He lives in long gone years
He thinks of days—those by-gone days
And to his eyes come tears.

Billy Sunday recently umpired a game between college nines. And yet there are some persons who question his bravery.

Budweiser, like wine and Honus Wagner, probably improves with age. He ran a race the other day—and won it—despite his 16 years.

When John L. Met Royalty.
A western writer recently revived the story concerning John L. Sullivan's meeting many years ago with the Prince of Wales, who later became King Edward.

John, then in the heyday of his career, was introduced to the future king of England.

"I am pleased to meet you; I have heard quite a bit about you," said the prince.

"I am glad to know you, prince," shot back John. "I have heard quite a bit about you, too."

When John was saying goodbye to the prince, he shot over his shoulder an invitation to visit Boston.

"Let me know when you're coming," instructed John, "and I'll see to it that the boys show you a good time."

"Frank Gotch is a dead one," asserts "Doc" Roller. "Nothing would suit me better than to try conclusions with him right now. He always was an overrated wrestler."

"Boy! Page Bombardier Wells!" Stanley McDonald, boxing instructor in Portland (Ore) claims he can make a good fighter of anyone.

What Famine Did.

Sometimes it isn't wise to achieve fame. The case of Theodore Turner is a sample. He pitched a one hit game for the Evansville (Ind) team and right away became the town hero. His triumph was chronicled far and wide. Among those who read about it was Stan Freckman, deputy sheriff of Lexington, Ky.

"Ha! Ha!" exclaimed Freckman. "Theodore Turner, hey? Well, this is luck."

Whereupon, Freckman wired the Evansville authorities to hold Turner

Don't make the minister's wife jealous. Tell her how to make that golden Johnny Cake with

Presto SELF-RAISING FLOUR

This is what you will say to her:
"2 cups Presto, 1 pint sweet milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 of butter, 1 1/2 cups Indian meal, 1 egg beaten. Mix thin. Bake in quick oven."
"You can get the Presto from your grocer. And you'll find recipes in and on every package."

The H-O Company, Buffalo, N.Y. Makers of H-O, Force and Presto.

until his arrival asserting that Turner was wanted in Lexington on a charge of theft.

Joe Stecher, the western grapple, recently was quoted as saying he has been offered a vaudeville contract by New York theatrical folk's calling for $20,000 a week. Was Joe kidding—or did the limotype add an extra "o" to the figures?

Old Pacer Coming Back.

Joe Patchen II, 2:03 3/4, a famous pacer of five or six years ago, is being groomed for a "comeback" this season. He will be entered in the 2:05 chamber of commerce $5,000 stake at Detroit. And despite his advance of years, his owners feel that the grand old side-wheeler will make a fine showing against his whirlwind rivals.

Thomas R. Marshall seems to have discovered that it's really worth while being vice president of the United States. He has received season passes to the American and National League ball parks.

Hot Liners.

(By Frank G. Menke.)
The umpire is king. If you don't believe it ask the Giants. Klen sent 15 of them on their way. Perhaps they were glad. The beach was cold and the club house warm.

The Giants are improving. They nearly won a game yesterday.

The weather man is playing no favorites. He took a band in all three leagues yesterday.

Maybe Charlie Ebbets had some inside info from the forecaster when he walked about starting the season later.

Six straight for the Cubs. Looks like the old days of Evers to Tinker to Chance.

The Indians tried hard, but they could not scatter their hits, bounding them in one inning. The three runs were not enough and the Spotless Hosiery boys chalked up another in the win column.

The Athletics threw a scare into the Nationals camp. But a rally in the eighth saved the latter.
